

Digital Feminist Manifesto

The body is a fluid canvas in digital
worlds.

Self-creation is a revolutionary act.

The future is fluid and intersectional.

Digital spaces offer
new ways to define
ourselves.

We are all
multi-dimensional
beings.

The body is constantly
evolving and never
finished.

Self-definition is a prime aspect
of feminism.

The digital world is a place for exploration.

The body is a site of resistance and
rebellion.

The body is only
a concept and not defined by physical limitations.
